The value of property is determined by a complex blend of interests championed by tenants, financiers, owners and construction companies. The Kadans Group manages these interests so as to optimize value for all the parties involved. As both developer and investor, we can manage the whole lifecycle of property/real estate, from location survey, lease proposal and construction to commercial operation. This process requires vision, courage and enormous willpower: these are the three pillars upon which Kadans' success has been built for many years.

Our portfolio includes trade, production and logistics as well as office buildings, health centers, incubators/science centers and hotel properties.
